OHIO RAILROAD REPAIRS CARS TO SELL TO CANADA

Utilities Commission Calls Purchasing Agent From New York City

WANT SENATE TO PROBE FAILURE TO USE RIVER

Investigators Find Lake Vessels Are Not Following Pool Method

(Associated Press Telegram)

Columbus, O., Aug. 11.—T. M. Downing, purchasing agent for the General Equipment Company, New York, which has been supplying Canadian transportation companies with coal cars purchased in the United States, will meet with the Ohio public utilities commission and Attorney General McHugh next Friday and make a statement as to the number of cars sold to the Canadian concerns by the Toledo and Ohio Central railroad and other Ohio carriers. He has been in conference with James Dugan, chief inspector of the commission who is investigating for the state the alleged sale of Ohio coal cars for use in Canada.

Authorities learned today that John Kay, of New Brunswick, Canada, reported to be a purchasing agent, is a government inspector who now is at Logan inspecting cars being repaired in the Toledo and Ohio Central shops and which were sold by that company for use in Canada. The utilities commission has recommended to Senator Pomeroy from Ohio that federal investigation be made of the failure to use the Ohio river for coal transportation. The commission has been inquiring into this phase of the coal situation as well as that at the docks along lake points where it was found that boats were not following the so-called pool method as a means of getting a sufficient supply of coal transported for northern states.

CARRY OHIO CASE TO SUPREME COURT TO TEST DRAFT LAW

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Aug. 11.—A test of the constitutionality of the conscription law will come before the United States supreme court on or before August 24, with the docketing of a case which will probably be called for trial during the court's fall term. The case will come up on a writ of error from the district court of northern Ohio, where Charles E. Rutledge, recently Socialist candidate for mayor of Cleveland; Alfred Wagenknecht, Ohio state secretary of the Socialist party; and Charles Baker, Ohio state organizer of that party, were convicted of having conspired to induce persons subject to the conscript act to evade that law. They were sentenced to one year in the Canton, O., workhouse.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Toledo, Aug. 11.—Announcement of the appointment of Herbert C. Hoover as food administrator, and the order forbidding use of corn by distillers, has caused a heavy slump in the corn market here. The price declined seven cents a bushel yesterday and dropped 14 cents more today. The market closed at $2.10.

BRITISH FORCE GERMAN FROM FLANDERS LINE

Important Gain is Made Near Ypres and Counter Attacks Repulsed

TEUTONS RESISTED WITH VIGOR ON RIGHT FLANK

French Troops Recover the Ground Lost to Germans Last Night

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, Aug. 11.—Field Marshal Haig clinched his hold last night on the ground won in Friday's attack on the Flanders front, east of Ypres.

The Germans made their inevitable heavy counter-attacks, no less than six of them during the night, but all without success. Not only did the British maintain their positions but gained some additional ground on their right wing near the Ypres-Menin road.

These new gains are probably important to the success of the British general's plans, for it was in just this sector that the British had failed to make all the progress expected of them.

On the remainder of the two-mile front, running north of the Yser-Roulers railway, all the objectives were achieved in yesterday's assault and have since been held.

The German resistance was especially stubborn on the British right; but the result of the night's fighting as reflected in the London official account, shows that despite this the British forces were able to forge ahead.

While the British and French have been making another forward thrust in the process of driving a wedge into the German lines in Belgium, the French forces have been heavily engaged on their own soil to the south-near St. Quentin, on the Aisne front, and in the Champagne.

In the St. Quentin area, General Petain's troops regained nearly all the section of line which the Germans had penetrated in their sudden thrust of last night.

North of the Aisne they carried out a brilliant attack and recaptured and held the whole of an important trench which the Germans had recently taken south of Ailles.

The fighting in the Champagne was of German initiative. An attack launched over a front of nearly two miles was broken up by the French except at one point to the north of Camille, and even here the Germans were afterward ejected from the elements they had penetrated with the exception of a stretch of some 50 yards.

In the eastern theatre things seem to be going better for the Russians, except in southern Moldavia where Field Marshal von Mackensen is pushing an attack that threatens the important branch railway north of Pokshani, connecting the two lateral lines along the western Moldavian front. Even here the Russian report today announces that the Russo-Romanians, although forced back across the Sutchiza west of the Pokshani-Omsk railway, held their ground to the east of that line where the menace to the connecting road is greatest.

The most signal Russian success was scored in the vicinity of Brody where the Teutonic command an attack on Thursday in an apparent effort to break the Russian line in northern Galicia and clear the Russians from the small remainder of Galician soil they held.

Petrograd announces that this heavy assault after a prolonged battle failed completely with heavy losses to the Austro-German forces.

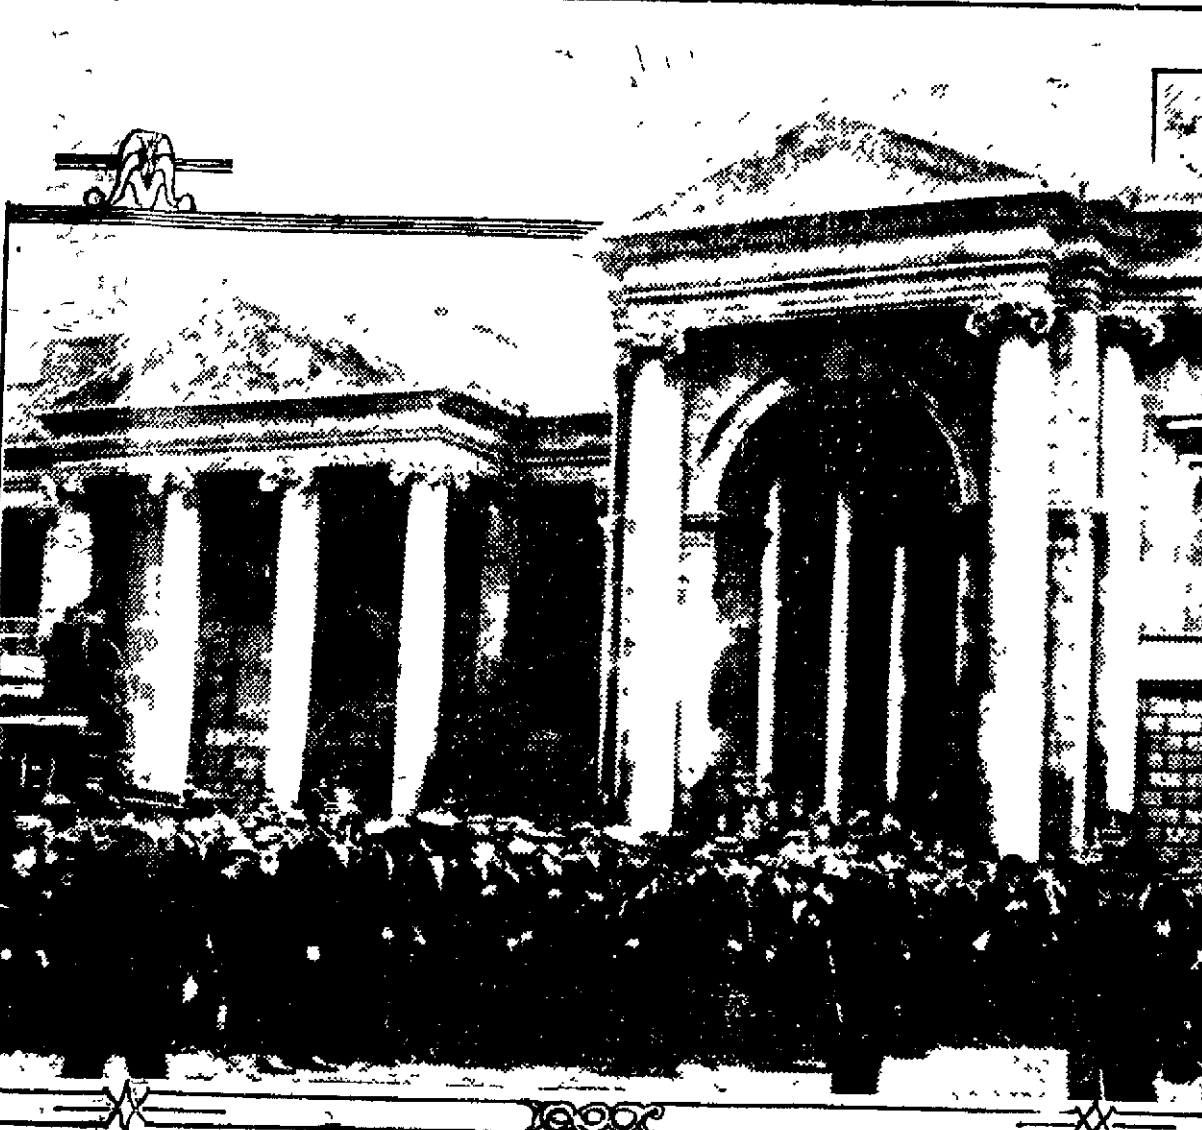

Other successes were won by the Russians on the Russo-Rumanian frontier where the town of Laxovica was entered by the Russians and a height was captured, together with some 400 prisoners.

VARY MENUS BY USING ALL FRESH VEGETABLES

Washington, Aug. 11.—"Eat all you can't eat," is the slogan of the department of agriculture in its campaign for conservation of perishable fruit and vegetables. Hereafter it has been "eat all you can" but now with a "big output of fruits and vegetables," the department is pointing out that "housewives might well vary their menus by serving dishes composed in large part of these products which will not keep."

ENGLISH MILITARY MEN INTERESTED IN RUMANIAN ATTACK

(Associated Press Telegram)

London, Aug. 11.—The military critics here are watching the German attack in Rumania with anxious interest. The greater part of Moldavia, the only section of the country remaining in Rumanian hands, is being attacked, as shown in official dispatches, from the north, west and south, and the Russians and Rumanians who until recently conducted a vigorous offensive are now losing ground at all points.

Field Marshal von Mackensen thrust in the neighborhood of Fokshani is the most serious of the operations being carried out by the German troops and the furious resistance of the allies is not meeting with success. The enemy's passage of the Sutchiza reported yesterday is regarded as placing in immediate jeopardy the Maria Sestij junction railroad, the possession of which is of immense importance to the Russians and Rumanians. Attention is called here to the absence of the Russian official statement yesterday while it is remarked that the Rumanian report does not appear to deal with the latest events.

ILLINOIS APPOINTS DIRECTOR OF COAL TO WATCH PRICES

(Associated Press Telegram)

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Illinois today has a director of coal whose duties involve the regulation of the price, production, distribution and transportation of coal to be consumed by the people of the state until March 31, 1918.

This new official is Chief Justice Orrin N. Carter, of the state supreme court. His appointment was announced last night after Governor F. O. Lowden and seven coal operators had been in conference for more than four hours attempting to reach an agreement on the coal question.

Acting in conjunction with the director of coal will be committees representing the state council of defense, the Illinois coal operators and the mine workers of the state. Under the agreement, however, the director has the power "from time to time to regulate the price of coal at the mine, in the various districts of the state." The price fixed by the director is not to be exceeded by the coal operator, and it is not to be less than the price established in the state until the coal operator has been given an opportunity to be heard.

MAY LOCATE PLANT TO BUILD PLANES NEAR CLEVELAND

(Associated Press Telegram)

Cleveland, O., Aug. 11.—Secretary of War Newton D. Baker and three army officers unexpectedly came to Cleveland today. While the purpose of the secretary's visit was unknown, it was intimated that he had come to consider the feasibility of the establishment here of a center for building airplanes. The Engineering Society and the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce have been working for an aircraft building headquarters.

SPAIN ASSURES RAIL SERVICE IN SPITE OF STRIKE

(Associated Press Telegram)

Madrid, Aug. 11.—Premier Dato has announced that the ministers of the various departments believe they will be able to assure railroad service despite the strike which was expected to begin last night. Military and naval engineers will be substituted for the strike. Vigorous measures have been prepared but the government does not intend to anticipate events by repressive acts.

The Northern Railroad company has given the men 48 hours to abandon the strike. If they fail to do so they will be definitely dismissed. The general impression is favorable.

ONE ROAD INVOLVED

Paris, Aug. 11.—Dispatches concerning the Spanish strike situation are rare and inconclusive. So far a known only the Northern Railroad is affected. There is a probability the strike may spread to other roads. The split between the men and the company is over questions of discipline and duties. The directors have agreed to consider that of salaries. Even if the strike should be restricted to this one road its effect on the troubled political and economic situation cannot but be extremely grave.

RECONSTRUCTION HOSPITAL FOR WOUNDED SOLDIERS IS PLANNED IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Plans were announced today for the building in Chicago for a "reconstruction hospital" with at least 2,000 beds and with vocational schools in connection, where the process of "making over men" wounded on the battle field may be completed and the patients fitted for occupational pursuits commensurate with their injuries.

It is said steps are under way for the conversion of the old Chicago National League baseball park upon which will be erected an eight-story hospital building with accommodations for 3,000 men. This would be turned over to the war department for use during the war it is said, and later would be turned back to the University of Illinois as a teaching hospital in connection with the medical school.

HOOVER NAMED FOOD DIRECTOR; PLANNING WORK

Appointment Made Immediately After President Signed Food Bill

STABILIZE NOT DISTURB CONDITIONS IS MISSION

Effort Will Be Made to Check Speculation and Correct Abuses

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Aug. 11.—Machinery for controlling the nation's food supply was set in motion today following formal announcement by President Wilson of Herbert C. Hoover's appointment as food administrator. Various agencies for putting into effect the food survey and regulatory bills, made law by the president's signature, today began the exercise of corrective powers in order to place the food supply on a war time basis.

The food administration, under direction of Mr. Hoover, will have general supervision of supply regulations. The department of agriculture will assist in food conservation by an educational campaign and will administer the food production measure. The federal trade commission will compile food scales. Production costs have recently been investigated by the commission and price fixing probably will be made in conformity with its recommendations. The purpose of the food administration is to stabilize and not to disturb conditions, Mr. Hoover declared in a statement issued following his appointment. "Efforts will be made to check speculation and correct price abuses," he said, "but drastic measures will not be employed unless negotiations with producers and manufacturers fail."

The very existence of corrective powers, Mr. Hoover declares, will tend to check speculation and price inflation.

"The business men of the country, I am convinced," says Mr. Hoover's statement, "as a result of many hundreds of conferences with representatives of the great sources of food supply, realize their own patriotic obligation and will fairly and generously co-operate in meeting the national emergency."

The two measures signed today give the government sweeping war time powers. The regulatory bill is designed to put food distribution under direct government supervision and a provision added as an amendment extends an even more drastic government control over coal and other fuels, including the power to fix prices and authorize government operation of mines. The survey bill is intended to encourage production and gives the government authority to keep up a continuous census of the amount of food stuffs in the United States. It will be administered by the department of agriculture.

The food administration has assembled a staff and already is enlisting the country's women in a household saving campaign. Meanwhile the federal trade commission, authorized some time ago to conduct an investigation into food prices, with special reference to anti-trust violations, is gathering information which it will turn over to the two agencies and to the department of justice.

WILL PROSECUTE DRAFT BOARD FOR EXEMPTION FRAUD

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Aug. 11.—Members of the New York local selective board, who were relieved yesterday after an inquiry into the manner in which discharges from draft had been granted, will be prosecuted, officials of the provost marshal general's office said today.

Up to this time the New York incident is the only one where any questions to the good faith of a local board has been raised. Officials said, however, that prompt steps to bring offenders to book would be taken on the slightest suspicion of irregularities.

Whatever action the New York board may have taken improperly in cases before it will be rectified before the district board. If it is shown that fraud or bribery had been used to obtain a discharge from the old board both the board members and the individual would be liable to prosecution, and it was indicated today that the government would seek to make such cases an example against future attempts to evade the draft law.

WEATHER IMPROVES; FLANDERS ATTACK IS AGAIN RENEWED

(Associated Press Telegram)

Copenhagen, Aug. 10.—A special dispatch from Flanders to the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin under date of August 9, describes three heavy British attacks on that point resulting in the forcing of a point where the railroad from Boesinghe and Langemark crosses the creek. It says that in consequence of better weather the artillery bombardment flames up along the whole army front. This and other preparations indicate that a renewal of the general attack is impending as soon as the ground conditions permit the infantry to attack.

In the east section the British attacked at 2 o'clock in the morning of the 9th after a short drum fire preparation coming to grips with the Germans at various points, but according to the Vossische Zeitung's version they did not succeed in ejecting the Germans from their positions. Further to the south the British were more successful. Here two hours of drum fire from Merket to Frezenberg was the prelude to violent infantry attacks in the sector between Drabank and Saint Julien. The chief effort was concentrated south of the Boesinghe and Langemark railway, where the British established themselves on the west bank of the Steenbeek.

FODDER SHORTAGE IN GERMANY; MUST KILL OFF CATTLE

Copenhagen, Aug. 11.—Representatives of the German farming interests and the war food bureau at a meeting recently held in Berlin decided that the shortage of fodder necessitated drastic slaughtering of cattle this summer and autumn. The farmers reported that pasturage was poor, that the hay and clover crops were scanty owing to drought and that only small amounts of potatoes and grains were available for fodder above the requirements of human consumption.

To avoid the earlier mistake of wasting fodder and barely keeping the cattle alive through the winter the farmers were advised to market all except milk cows, indispensable draft cattle now largely replacing horses and such animals for which winter fodder to keep them in good condition was available.

The measure was recognized as dangerous in respect to meat rations this winter and in 1918, to the future of the livestock industry and the supply of manures but the hopes of the farmers, it was said, were set on an early peace.

COAL DEALERS CALLED.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Wholesale and retail coal dealers of the city of Washington were directed by the federal trade commission to appear before it today for a conference on prices charged consumers. The hearing was in connection with the effort to fix and enforce prices. This authority, given to the president in the food control bill, signed yesterday, will be delegated to the commissioner probably within a few days.

WILLIAM HOLLER, WAR VETERAN, IS CALLED BY DEATH

William Holler died at 11.25 last night at his home, 245 Granville street after a four weeks illness caused by old age and complicated disease. William Holler was born in Licking county Oct. 2, 1838, and was 79 years old. All of his boyhood days were spent in Licking county near Newark, where he followed the vocation of farming. When the Civil War broke out he enlisted in Company F, 95th Ohio Volunteer Infantry for the term of three years and though he saw much active service was never seriously wounded. Only two members of the old 95th are still alive in Licking county. He was once captured by the confederates and was released on parole. The old paper bearing the parole was preserved by Mr. Holler and is still readable. Near the end of the war he was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant. When the war ended he went to Kansas where he lived five years but after that the rest of his life was spent in Licking county where he engaged in farming. After he retired from business and held the office of trustee of Newark township. His term had not yet expired when his death came. Mr. Holler was a member of the G. A. R. and of the Old Guard and was with them at their annual encampment held at Akron.

Mr. Holler's regiment was one of the first recruited and during the four years he served in the conflict his regiment was in many engagements. The first battle was at Richmond, Ky., when the federal troops became demoralized and the regiment suffered heavy losses. He fought in the Nashville campaign and was with the federal troops on their march to Atlanta and to the sea.

He was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church. His wife, Mary Channel, of Utica, died 13 years ago. He leaves to mourn his death one son, Edward Holler, of Utica, and one granddaughter, Florence Holler also of Utica. Mr. Holler had made many friends during the years he spent in Newark and was well liked by all who knew him.

The funeral services will be held Monday at 9:30 a. m. from the First M. E. church, and interment will be made at Cedar Hill. Rev. C. L. Sparks will officiate.

THE HOME BUILDING ASSOCIATION COMPANY OF NEWARK, OHIO

BRITAIN'S ANSWER TO THE "BUSY BERTHA"

Huge new British gun on the western front.

Acting on the opinion once expressed by Napoleon, that "Providence is on the side of the heaviest artillery," the allies have been increasing the calibre of their guns during the past two years and today hold the supremacy in this arm of the service. The last few offensives have seen the introduction of many new types of guns bigger and more powerful than the German "Busy Berthas." One of these is shown here in action.

RECORDER MARTIN SERVES UNTIL 1918 IS MCGHEE'S OPINION

In an opinion given by Attorney General McGhee this morning, County Recorder Martin's term does not expire till the first Monday in September, 1919.

The controversy as to whether the county commissioners had the power to appoint a recorder following the death of Frank B. Dudgeon who was to have taken charge of the office the first Monday of next month, is thus put to an end.

Several weeks ago the commissioners appointed N. H. Overturf to fill the term of two years for which Dudgeon was elected. The opinion of the attorney general will make this appointment void.

Teutonic forces also were forced across the Putna river on the northern Rumanian front.

GERMANS LOSE HEAVILY.
French Battle Front in France, Friday, Aug. 10.—Several furious efforts to oust the French from their observatories on the Chemin-des-Dames in the Aisne region, were launched by the Germans at dawn today (Friday). They all proved abortive and resulted in the attackers suffering enormous losses especially in the vicinity of Pantheon and Chateauvieu, where the enemy encountered the famous chasseurs. A noteworthy incident was that nearly all the German officers remained behind, the troops being led by sergeants and sub-lieutenants.

A few German snipers succeeded in momentarily obtaining a footing in a front French trench, but their tenacity was extremely costly for none of them got away these not killed being captured. The assault on this portion of the position was of the most violent character but the tenacity of the chasseurs was greater than the determination of the Germans, who were simply moved down as wave succeeded wave. The French artillery, worked with astounding precision in putting a wall of fire in front of the advancing Germans.

Three battalions of the 241st East Prussian regiment bore the brunt of the attack. They were supported by the 202nd and 203rd regiments. Several artillery preparations lasted eight hours.

At 4:15 a. m. German infantry, each company preceded by a specially trained shock unit, advanced to the assault with the object of regaining the trench 1,500 yards in length which the same division had lost on July 30. The men had been told they would not be relieved until the trench again was in German hands.

The first rush gave the Germans a slight success in occupying the objective partially, but a rapid counter attack thrust them back and they left behind them heaps of bodies and 72 prisoners, without exception boys of 18 and 19.

Official Statements of War Department

RUSSIAN.

Petrograd, Aug. 11.—Austro-German attacks yesterday in the region of the villages of Vydra, Voloshkany and Cifesch, on the northern Rumanian front were repulsed by the Russians, says the official statement issued today by the Russian war department and the Teutons were driven across the Putna river.

In the course of a battle south of the River Pruth, on the frontier of Rumania and Bukovina the Russians entered the town of Lukovka and took prisoners 200 officers and men. The Russians also captured 200 Austro-Germans and took three machine guns by wresting a height in that region from the enemy.

The Russian war department's report announces that the Germans attacked in dense waves near the village of Zarkov, southwest of Brody, in northeastern Galicia. The battle still is progressing.

In a stubborn battle on Thursday the Rumanian troops southeast of Okna were forced to retire for a distance of about three miles. The central allied forces continued to develop their offensive west of the Fokshani railway and the Russo-Rumanians were forced to retire across the river Suchitza. East of the railway all the Teuton attacks were repulsed and 800 officers and men were taken prisoner by the Russians.

The statement adds that the Teuton offensive which began on Thursday in the Zarkov region completely failed with heavy losses.

FRENCH.

(Associated Press Telegram.) Paris, Aug. 11.—North of St. Quentin French troops last night made important progress in the region of Fayet, says the official statement given out today by the French war department. The French ejected the Germans from a large part of the terrain which they had captured on the night of August 9-10.

In the Champagne the Germans launched several attacks over a front of nearly two miles in the region of Carnillet and at one point succeeded in penetrating the French advanced trenches. In an energetic counter attack the French statement says the Frenchmen regained the lost ground with the exception of about fifty yards which the Germans still occupy.

BRITISH.

(Associated Press Telegram.) London, Aug. 11.—Six German assaults were made on the British positions to the east of Ypres during the night, according to the British official statement issued today. They all broke down after fierce fighting.

British Field Marshal Haig reports that the British maintained their positions to the east of Ypres and gained ground near the Ypres-Menin road.

GERMAN.

(Associated Press Telegram.) Berlin, Aug. 11.—Via London.—French attacks on the north of St. Quentin and Cerny, west of Laon, in the course of the night were only partially successful, says the official report issued today by the German general staff. On the Hochberg the Germans wrested important trench sectors from the French and made prisoners.

British attacks on a front of nearly five miles between Frobenberg and Hollebeck in Belgium were unsuccessful, the German war office announced today. After a bitter struggle the British were repulsed near Westhoek by the German reserves.

Nineteen enemy airplanes and two captive balloons were shot down yesterday, most of them in Flanders.

WILL ELIMINATE KAISER PAGE.

(Associated Press Telegram.) Chicago, Aug. 11.—The "Kaiser page" of the school speller is to come out, after all. John D. Shoop, superintendent of schools, said today that he would take responsibility for removal of the page when the new school term begins next month. At a recent meeting the school board declined to authorize removal of the page from spellers now in the hands of pupils.

U. C. T. SENDS LARGE CROWD TO PICNIC AT BUCKEYE LAKE

The annual outing of the United Commercial Travelers held all day today at Buckeye Lake Park was a huge success. A large crowd motored from Newark to attend the event. A program of sports and amusements provided by the entertainment committee was a feature. Races, games and contests of all kinds were held. A delicious chicken dinner made the day one of the most enjoyable outings ever held by the Newark Council. In the evening an ice cream supper was served to the U. C. T.'s. Through the generosity of the park management the concessions were thrown open to the picnickers.

ROSE HILL ADDITION WELL WORTH SEEING

There appears in this edition a full page announcement of Rose Hill addition which deserves more than passing notice.

This property lying between Buena Vista and Vine streets and Indiana and Clarendon streets, 12 minutes walk from the courthouse, is high and healthful and the many fine old trees have been preserved in laying out the streets and walks. Two new streets have been asphalted with cement curb and gutter and splendid judgment and good taste have been exercised in laying out the winding streets. Restrictions as to building will protect every purchaser. Sewer water and gas are in and paid for.

The Licking Land company in acquiring this property and placing it on the market on easy terms is accomplishing something for Newark as Rose Hill will be one of the "show places" of the city. It is now in the state of development and is worth seeing. It will be a very desirable residence section of Newark.

VOTERS MUST STICK TO PARTY LINES IN PRIMARY ELECTION

Voters exercising their franchise at the primaries next Tuesday must comply with the state election laws and call for the ballot of the party with which they have been affiliated. That is they must vote at the primary according to the ballot which they cast in 1916, or a majority of the candidates they cannot call for a Republican ballot or a Democrat for a Republican ballot. There is a severe penalty attached to the offense and all judges of primary booths have been instructed to see that the law is complied with.

Three men are under arrest and 20 drivers of express wagons are said to be under surveillance.

The scheme employed by the men, according to the police, was to have drivers of wagons conveniently lose packages which were picked up by confederates.

NEWARK PEOPLE ARE GENEROUS IN GIFTS TO AMBULANCE FUND

Bits of ribbon containing the colors of the flags of the allied nations was worn by nearly every person on the downtown streets Saturday showing who had contributed to the fund of the American Field Service. Hundreds of young women were working on the streets selling the tags, which were used as a means of raising much-needed money to carry on the relief work on the battlefields. The campaign is being conducted under the leadership of W. K. Varney of Zanesville, and E. I. Cordner of Chicago. The city was divided into districts and committees appointed for each section of the city and for the business districts.

Permission was secured to solicit funds at the gates of the following industries: The Wehrle company, B. & O. shops, Jewett company, Blair company, and Hulshizer company. In many places an explanation of the work to be done with the money was placed on the time-clocks. It is expected that at least $1000 will be secured, and even this sum of those in charge may be exceeded for the response has been generous.

SHORTAGE OF RAILS DELAYS 'TIL SPRING MAIN ST. PAVING

There is no possibility of paving Main street from the Pennsylvania tracks in East Newark, to Racoon creek in West Main, until the summer of next year, according to information given out from the city engineers' office this morning. Council has legislation passed and approved ready for the work but a shortage of steel rails needed by the street car company to renew their tracks prevents the work being done this year.

This decision was reached last night at an informal meeting of members of the city council with Chief Engineer J. H. Sundmaker of the Ohio Electric railway. He appeared before the council last night and exhibited correspondence with the steel manufacturers in which it was shown that mills had refused to deliver rails until May, 1919. A contract also was shown indicating that the O. E. had placed an order for all rails needed in the improvement in Newark.

The city therefore has abandoned plans to repair this street this year as it is impractical to pave a portion of the street, leaving that part used by the street car lines unpaved until after the rails are received.

COAL PRICE BOOST MEANS PROFITEERING SAYS GOVT.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Coal dealers who increase their prices for anthracite more than ten cents a ton before September 1, will be considered by the federal trade commission as openly declaring "a policy of profiteering." Indications are that bituminous coal prices will be reduced in the future, the commission announces.

VOTE NEXT TUESDAY.

Next Tuesday, August 14, will be primary election day when the Democrats and Republicans will put municipal tickets in the field in anticipation of the November election. Interest in the primary this year has been overshadowed by the events of world-wide moment and by America's active preparation for entry into the great war, but the time has come for every man in Newark to pause, reflect upon municipal affairs and awaken to the importance of selecting the very best men who are offered as candidates upon the local tickets. We are to choose a mayor, a city solicitor, auditor, treasurer and members of the city council in November, but as a matter of fact the mayor and other officers will be selected next Tuesday. Either the man who is named by the Democrats or by the Republicans next Tuesday will be selected as Newark's chief executive less than three months hence and if the attendance at the primary is light the selections will not necessarily indicate the real choice of the entire electorate. A small vote may easily mean the nomination of the weaker candidate. A full vote will mean an expression from the majority and no doubt the selection of the best men for office. Important problems confront the city of Newark—water supply, sewerage, water supply, and other vital improvements to say nothing of the ever-important subject of taxation. To cope with these matters which concern every citizen and affect every taxpayer and every resident, it is indeed important to select men of capacity and integrity. The best men should be nominated. In any other column may be seen the names of candidates upon both the Democratic and Republican tickets. Look them over now. Select the best men and then go to the polls next Tuesday and vote for the best men.

MAKING TRANSPORTATION PAY.

Railroad and trolley corporations for some years have been complaining bitterly about the conditions under which they do business. They assert that their costs are constantly increasing while they are not permitted to raise rates. This may be true in many cases. Yet the managers of these corporations should use the means by which other business men have won out in the face of hard conditions. They could learn that to do business in St. Paul and Minneapolis. These companies take a lot of newspaper space and they tell about their interesting trips, both to outside points and about the two cities. The result must be that many residents find that there are many interesting things near by that they never saw. Any railroad or trolley company could greatly stimulate passenger business by telling the public about sights of interest on its lines. A desire to travel can be created in the same way that the desire for automobiles has been created—by persistent advertising.

Not merely are the Germans diving on the field of battle to prevent themselves from getting a fair right of suffrage, but they are willing to starve to keep themselves from securing the right of free speech.

Under the laws as they now stand, the native Americans go to war to protect the rights of aliens who can not be drafted either here or in their home countries.

As the Kaiser talks about this war for defense, it does seem awful the real way in which Belgium jumped on poor little Germany.

It is lucky for the political party that is responsible for this intense heat that there are no congressional elections this year.

All the Congressmen have to do on the war tax bills is to agree on a schedule of taxes that won't hit anybody's district.

YOUNG MAN'S "DEPENDENT" WIFE.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
A young man just under thirty drove up to the building where a New Jersey draft exemption board was in session, entered, submitted to a physical examination, was declared fit and then filed out an exemption blank. He asked immaturity from military service on the grounds that he had a dependent wife. He refused to be interviewed.

This young man's grandfather was a partner of "Jim" Fisk. His operations in Wall Street are a part of national history. He and Fisk have been popularly held responsible for the famous "Black Friday" of 1869, which led to the worst panic the country ever saw and brought ruin upon thousands. But the grandfather appears to have survived fairly well, for when he died his fortune was more than $1,000,000.

This young man's father stepped into the shoes of the grandfather. The portion of the $70,000,000 is not supposed to have dwindled perceptibly. He is known as a conservative capitalist, whose personal check is not without honor in railroad and high financial circles.

With such a background of successful accumulation, it would not be expected that the young man, who seeks exemption because he has a dependent wife, would be compelled to learn a trade, join a union, buy a home, or do the installment plan and run a weekly bill at the little corner grocery. In truth, he is not subject to any of these everyday American conditions. Quite conceivably, were he drafted and sent to the front, his wife—whom by the way, he married only a few weeks ago—would still find means for her support without her devoted husband's meager daily wage.

If the worst happened, possibly her husband's father might spare a dollar or two a week to help her keep the wolf from her humble door.

Matters might be worse by far for this bride of a few weeks. It is, on the whole, not surprising that this young man refused to be interviewed. But it would be surprising, and distinctly disappointing, were the government to exempt him from military service upon the ridiculous claim that he has a dependent wife.

THE FILIPINOS.

(Columbus Dispatch.)
A gentleman who has lately returned from the Philippine islands says the thing that most impressed him was the number of Filipino boys at teaching school in various provinces of the island. He says that, even out among the Igorotes and Moros, in the most remote sections of the country, these Filipino boys are to be found instructing the natives after the American manner of teaching.

At first, as everyone remembers, the wilder people of the islands, resent the Americans coming among them with books in their hands. Many of the higher grade Filipinos took to education from the beginning and the demand for American teachers was great. But the more isolated ones and the more savage tribes would have nothing to do with them.

All of that seems to have been changed. Not only are the more savage of the tribes asking for teachers, but the Filipino boys are volunteering their services. Education has become a sort of craze among them, and no one now stands better in any community than the educator.

We are not hearing much about the Philippines these days; there are so many more interesting things to hear about, and all pertaining to our own war. But one of these fine summers, when we have gotten rid of war, and have time to take stock of the people of the remote islands, we are going to find that the trouble of the Philippines of the past has made wonderful progress while we were fighting.

NEW SUBMARINE TERROR.

(New York Sun.)
There is only too much reason to believe that the nation of the German submarine that sank the steamship Belgian Prince, cited upon orders when she sailed all the lifeboats, took 41 members of the crew on her deck, and steaming away far enough to be free of all wreckage that might support them, submerged, leaving them to drown.

DON'T BE LAZY! CARRY PACKAGES HOME AND HELP TO WIN WAR

"Carry a bundle and be a patriot."
"Every time you pack your own package and lug your own luggage you are helping Uncle Sam beat the Kaiser."
"You should expect service, and not servitude, from the shops."
These are some of the messages for American women from A. W. Shaw, chairman of the Commercial Economy Board of the Advisory Commission of the National Council of Defense. He says the two chief abuses to which stores are subjected are:
First: The unreasonable demand to have every little parcel delivered.
Second: The costly habit of demanding that goods be sent home on approval.
"Every big store has six items of operating cost—assembly and sorting goods, selling, deliveries, risk, financing, office management. In delivery there are five elements of cost—assembly, packing, routing, transporting and calling for returns. Delivery is 18 to 30 per cent of the entire operating expense of a store. From one-third to one-half of these deliveries could easily be cut out.
"In France they now have one delivery every other day. In England the shops have cut down their deliveries. It should be possible to cut them down in this country if the women will help.
"American grocery, dry goods and department stores employ more than 200,000 men in delivery departments. Many are going to be drafted. Cutting down deliveries will release accountants, bookkeepers, clerks, parkers, checkers and delivery men for war work.
"Sending goods home on approval not only entails double deliveries, but compels the merchant to carry a bigger stock than he really needs.
"A word to the patriotic should be sufficient."

INFORMATION FOR THE PUBLIC.

(Industrial Management.)
Why is so much misery thrown around the submarine problem? Why are American engineers allowed to remain in ignorance of what this problem really is? Why the failure to state it in simple terms?
It is obvious that the withholding of this information is not injuring Germany. The Germans know what their own submarines are like; they know their size, their cruising radius, their construction, the number and caliber of their guns, the thickness of their armor, how fast they can sail on the surface and how long they can remain submerged without coming to the surface for air, how many men in their crews, their horsepower in fact everything about their design and operation. The Germans also know how many torpedoes each type of submarine carries, the speed and range of these under-water projectiles, the usual depth of submergence when fired, and so on. It is perfectly obvious that the exact statement of any one of these facts, or of all of the facts connected with the German submarine, would not be giving information or aid to the enemy.

OUT OF EVIL SOME GOOD.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch.)
It is pleasing to be told by the St. Louis Republic that grand good has already resulted from the disastrous riots at East St. Louis, which is not in Missouri, but in the "Egyptian" corner of Illinois. From the wave of degradation, due to degraded conditions antedating the riots, has arisen a veritable tidal wave of reform, according to the St. Louis Journal. A committee of one hundred was promptly organized, and in the month that has elapsed since the riots the Illinois city has been transformed.

The police board has been "induced" to resign and new commissioners have been installed. The chief of police and his staff have been suspended or "fired," and new officials appointed. The business men of the city have subscribed $100,000 to double the membership of the police force and to employ none but the most reliable patrolmen to replace the incompetents and grafters, and the commission form of government has actually been "discussed" with incidental mention of the city manager system.

This is some beginning. Entrance has been made upon a new municipal highway. That which has been accomplished seems to be something more than a spasmotic spurge. The riots were a warning to other cities. The reform may be an eloquent suggestion to other cities to anticipate disorder with reform. The committee of one hundred of East St. Louis is apparently, up to date, somewhat superior in energy and determination to some other committees of one hundred which have sprung up in a night, like beautiful flowers, to speak, only to wither in the broad sunlight of the morning.

BUSINESS AND PATRIOTISM.

(The New Republic.)
The only way out of the present price-market is backward—backward to prices within sanity. But how can that way be built? Certainly not by the individual producer. If I own a keg of nails, and if all my customers are crazy for nails, as they are, and if one of them offers me $2.20 and the next $3.50 and the next $4, it is useless to tell me that the boys in France are dying. The boys in France are dying under concerted binding orders for concerted binding purposes with concerted binding enthusiasms, and an utterly unbound and uncontrolled individual, compelling and uncontrolled individual, each of whom may desert at any moment from the $2.20 price to the $4 price, and all of whom I strongly suspect of having already deserted, leaving me to die in my dug-out.

Of what avail is it for senators and representatives to attack such situations with a fire of moral maxims leveled at the "patriotism" of the individual business man? Of what avail is it to try to make out that such situations can be mastered, that prices can be controlled, that markets can be stabilized, by the fact that the individual industrial volunteer is as absurd, as unjust, as ineffective, as an individual military volunteer. Every sailor, every representative, who really wants to see consumers protected against oppressive prices of primary commodities, will surely be driven to doing his best to help the administration devise a competent method of public price-control.

People of the Virgin Islands. It is said that between 80 and 90 per cent of the people of the Virgin Islands, formerly the Danish West Indies, are pure black. The rest of them are white. There are very few mulattoes for the race line is more sharply drawn than in the other islands of the West Indies. The islands pride themselves on their low percentage of mulattoes. Only about 2 per cent of the inhabitants are unable to read and write. In spite of their proximity there is a great difference between the Virgin Islands and Porto Rico. The inhabitants of the former are thoroughly English in their speech and customs, while those of Porto Rico are Spanish.

Not a Word Waster. Sir William Grant, the learned master of the rolls, was a native of the county of Banat and for a considerable time represented that county in parliament. Though a forcible and easy speaker, scarcely inferior to any of his time at the bar or in parliament, he was a remarkably silent man, says the Farm and Home. He was the most patient of judges. The story is well known of his hearing an elaborate argument for two days on the meaning of an act of parliament and when the counsel finished simply saying, "Gentlemen, the act is repealed." On one of his visits to Banat he rode out a few miles into the country, accompanied by a few friends. The only observation that escaped from him was in passing a field of peas. "Very fine peas!" Next day he rode out with the same cortege and was equally silent, but on passing the same spot he muttered, "And very finely podded too!"

The Slackers Love Song

Oh, Mary Ann or Sarah Jane, or Myrtle or Marie,
Or Bridget, Becky or Elaine, please won't It's not that you are fair, my dears, it's not your eyes of blue,
It's not your glossy hair, my dears, of many a varied hue.
It's not your golden, glowing health that sets my heart a-flutter,
And though you're shy on worldly wealth
I want you just the same.

Oh, Nora, Reba, Tilly, May, oh! Jessie,
Madge or Sue,
Oh, Fanny, Josie, Flora, Fay, I certainly want you!
Not all at once, you understand, for I can give my name
And hold my hand and sinewy hand to but a single dame.
It isn't that I love you, but in my present fix
The old exemption bill don't go, and single men are his.

Oh, maids or widows, young or old, or lean or wailing portly,
Pray hear my plea and don't be cold, for
I shall need you shortly.
I'll not pretend my pulses beat like mad when you are near
Or that I cannot sleep or eat because of you, my dear;
I am no Broadway chicken fan; skirts
have no power to charm me.
But if I stay a single man they'll nail me for the army!

Oh, Ella, Eunice, Eulalie, I beg you not to falter.
For here comes Uncle Sam and we must beat him to the altar.
Come, Mollie, Mabel, Maizie, Minnie, come
Come, Clara, Claudia, Carrie,
And help me to fight within the slack-

I will not promise to be true, my weeping is a sham.
But I would rather marry you than fight for Uncle Sam!

OWN SHOT FROM U BOAT KILLED GIRL HE LOVED

"Oh, This Murderous, Damnable, Unspeakable Duty!" Says German Captain.

The tragic story of how a U boat commander unwittingly became the slayer of his sweetheart is told by Lars Larsen, who arrived at an Atlantic port on board a small cargo steamship. He was an officer of the Swedish steamship Ada, which was sunk on June 12 last while on her way from Gothenburg, Sweden, to Hull, England. This is his dramatic recital:

"Before the war began a handsome young German fell in love with my daughter Minna, sixteen and beautiful. The German, Hans von Tuebingen, was an art student and had come to Sweden to study."

"Minna soon grew to return the love of the good looking youngster, and when the war broke out and he received notice to present himself at once to the naval unit to which he belonged in Germany, the poor girl was ready to die of grief."

"Two months elapsed before we got a letter from Hans. It told us of his having been detailed to submarine work. After this we never heard from him again."

"Toward the end of April, as we were nearing the coast of England on my schooner, the Balder, a shell struck the Balder amidstships. A splinter of the smashed woodwork struck Minna and killed her. The rest of us had barely time to get into a small boat, and carry away before the schooner sank, carrying down the body of my daughter."

"It was only then that we noticed the U boat from which the shell had been fired. It came close to us, and I judge of my horror and that of my son Sven when we discovered that the captain was the man who was to have been the husband of Minna. His first question was, 'How is my Minna, and does she still think of me?'"

"I pointed to the place where the Balder had sunk. 'What?' shrieked Hans von Tuebingen. 'Minna is dead?'"

"His grief was certainly unfeigned when we told him what had happened."

"Last June my son and I were officers aboard the Swedish steamship Ada, under Captain Ternstrom. Again we were nearing the British coast when a submarine fired a shell. When it came close enough to enable us to discern the features of those on the boat we were again almost paralyzed with horror to see that the commander was Hans Tuebingen. When we got close enough to the U boat Sven leaped to its deck and made a rush for Hans. His hand was at the man's throat when a seaman struck Sven a blow on the head. It felled him, and he rolled off into the water. He did not reappear."

"Hans swore he would gladly have given his own life to save my son's. 'Duty, duty,' he exclaimed bitterly. 'Oh, this murderous, unspeakable duty!'"

ARMY BREECHES CHANGED.

Difficult Re-enforcement Adapted For Officers' Apparel. With foresight of the hard service expected of our officers the quartermaster general at Washington has just issued new specifications for breeches. The shape of the re-enforcement has been changed to a full crotch pad with front and knee pieces. Hereafter there will be no difference in the breeches for either the mounted or dismounted service. Both will wear the re-enforcement, but this will not involve the discarding of the breeches now being worn by officers.

Our Boys and Girls

A courteous gentleness to social interiors, such as servants, is the sign of manual of breeding. Therefore, exact from the child a gentle deference for their feelings. He must be told to say "please" when asking for a thing at the table and to say "thank you" when it is given to him.

The man and woman of the south are noted especially for marks of politeness and a great deal of their training comes through the need of being polite to one's black nurse. The detection is not treated with spanking, for the nurse has no right to spank. It is the old black nurse of the south who taught imperative obedience to the father and mother's will, who inculcated love for them, who insisted upon every little shade of the ordinary behavior which stands for breeding. A good deal depends upon the character and bringing-up of the nurse-maid into whose hands a child has been entrusted.

Ephemeral Stage.

A man in middle life recalls the slang of his boyhood with some such indulgent wonder as that with which an elderly woman looks at the fashion plates of her early youth—"snide," "cheese it," "straw Katy," "spoony," "chestnut," or even those of more recent coinage—"snap," "skiddoo," "twenty-three," "30 cents." They were artificially charged with meaning, and their effectiveness is irretrievably gone. "Lemon" and "lobster" are nearly as flat. With disappearance of a certain kind of early Victorian prudery has gone the vogue of such terms as "leopardism" for trousers. Du Maurier's once famous novel has almost reached the vanishing point in the perspective of time, and we no longer speak of feet as "tribbles." It is not safe, however, to prophesy that because a word comes from a proper name it will fade as fades the fame or notoriety of the person. We have forgotten what "Edgarism" is, but "Fletcherism" may yet make Fletcher immortal, even as "derick" preserves in the dictionaries the name of a once famous hangman.—Robert P. Utter in Harper's Magazine.

Milady's Boudoir

About Selecting Rugs. "We have taken on the study of rugs in school," remarked Marjorie petulently one day, "while in her books into the cozy corner and displaying rather a bold sowing of temper."

"Do you not like the study of rugs, mademoiselle?" asked Marie. "Of course not, why should they interest me, and I care not whether a Persian rug is meant for the kitchen or the library, and I don't believe you do either."

"I cannot agree with you," replied Marie. "I have traveled through Brussels, Persia, and, in fact, all the oriental countries, where rugs mean more than furniture, and I must admit that they have come to mean a great deal in my life, too."

"For instance, if you were furnishing a home, you would realize that whatever rugs you select you have to use for a long while because of their great cost. You would then wish to choose the very best in quality as well as artistic value."

"Rugs bear in their weavings and colorings ancient symbolism and if you were to know the stories of all rugs in your home it would interest you, and your friends. Sometimes, romances are intricately woven in the rugs. Tapestries, too, portray stories."

"Well, I had not thought of that. It is interesting, isn't it?" Marjorie reluctantly admitted.

"Oh, you will find it very interesting, and you will grow to love rugs as you do books and pictures. Good rugs last a lifetime, and become more beautiful with long usage."

Every Day Etiquette

"Is it proper to hand my coat to my escort when I want to put it on, or should he offer the assist me?" asked Florence.

"Usually the young man offers to assist the young lady with her coat. If he does not, and you need help, ask him," answered her older sister.

Some people botch everything they undertake. Even the fellow who has nothing to do, can't always be depended upon to do it.

You can tell a girl to have a heart, but the chances are she would rather take a diamond.

DISLOYALTY IN THE U.S. SENATE

(By Prof. W. H. Johnson.) Here is the list of names of senators who voted Wednesday afternoon against accepting the conference report on the food bill:

Reed
Hardwick
Hollis
France
Grimes
Lafollette

Can any reader of this paper point out anything in the history of any one of these men which would justify the opinion that, after all, he might be a real patriot, standing out for the right against a whole senate carried away by passion, as in the case of Trumbull, Fessenden and Grimes, for example, on the question of the impeachment of Andrew Johnson?

No, not one of them has any such reputation. Their opposition to the food bill, delaying its passage for weeks, has been from beginning to end a disgraceful spectacle of disloyalty to the country's cause, to the moral and patriotic feeling of the great mass of the American people, to the vital interests of humanity. It has been worse than that. During these same weeks of delay in the senate on this vital war measure, our people have been making up an army of American boys from more than half a million American homes to go to the front and to fight for the nation's cause. Everything that hampers and delays must of necessity tend to prolong the war, and hence to increase the number of these boys whose lot it will be to fall in the conflict. The senate's delay, therefore, on a measure which means the better support of these boys from their home-land, and the better provisioning of the allies on the other side, is a criminal trifling with the lives of American boys.

It is less than four months now until the opening of the regular session of Congress in December. Before that time comes there should be an overwhelming demand from one end of the land to the other that the senate be reorganized with every committee in the hands of a chairman and a majority of members absolutely loyal in their support of the nation's cause in this great crisis.

RED CROSS IN FRANCE

CARING FOR CHILDREN

(Associated Press Telegram.)

Paris, Aug. 11.—The American Red Cross has instituted a "fresh air farm" on a beautiful hillside as a refuge center for 400 children who have been driven from their homes by gas bombs dropped by enemy airplanes. The refuge center formerly was a series of unoccupied barracks, and the Red Cross now is housing in these buildings the hundreds of weary, nervous children from the bombed cities. Each child is kept on the "fresh air farm" for ten days at a time. So far as known here, this is the first experiment of the kind ever made.

COMPLETE ADDITION TO PHONE BLDG. IN SEPT.

The work of building an extension to the central building of the Automatic Telephone company is being rushed and will probably be completed by the middle of September or the first of October.

The building easily adapted itself to a second floor which is being built over the store rooms on the south side of the Arcade. The building was heavily reinforced with steel beams and the roof of the new story is already in place, this precaution being taken so the roof of the first story can be taken out and the floor laid. The side walls will soon be in place.

The addition will be 75 feet long and 16 feet wide. A door will be cut in where the toll room now is and the new rooms will quarter the new toll room, rest rooms, Manager Hollander's office, the office of the manager's clerk, and the directors' rooms.

New automatic equipment will be installed and a new automatic toll board.

The addition will enable the company to care for between 1200 and 1500 new subscribers, and the facilities for new subscribers under present conditions would have soon been exhausted.

(Associated Press Telegram.)

Boston, Aug. 11.—Francis Quinet, western golf champion and former national amateur and open title holder, today announced that he would not claim exemption from the draft. He has already passed the physical examination.

"My service are at my country's disposal in whatever capacity I can do the most good," he said. "Whether this proves to be in the army or playing golf in aid of the Red Cross."

Mr. Taft has determined to give up all his speaking engagements for the remainder of this month, and will go to his summer home at Point Au Pic, Quebec, Canada, Dr. B. F. Morgan, his physician said today. He also announced Mr. Taft might leave here within five or six days.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE

GUS ATHERTON

The subject of this election was born in Licking county, and has spent practically all of his life in Newark. He was educated in the Newark public schools and has been always identified with all the interests of the city. He is the son of former Mayor Herbert Atherton, who was elected to this office on four different occasions. While Gus seeks this office also, he intends to correct some of the mistakes that his father inadvertently made, and to give the city an administration that will tend to the upbuilding of the city in a constructive way, and uniting all classes into one large bunch of boosters, instead of having several different factions as at present, all working together in peace and harmony for the common good of all. He is not making any rash claims, but admits in a modest way that if he receives the Democratic nomination on Tuesday next that he will give his entire time and attention to making a race against the Republican nominee that will insure his election, and a consequent clean and fearless administration of the duties that he will assume as mayor of the grand little city of Newark, Ohio.

A DEMOCRAT.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

How many boys are there in Newark between the ages of 10 and 16 who cannot swim? The Y. M. C. A. pool will be open to these boys free of charge. The only condition is that the boys must leave their names at the Y. M. C. A. office before next Wednesday.

General Secretary Frank L. Johnson, spent the last week at his home at Farmdale, O. on his vacation. He has a fine coat of tan.

The association was glad to throw open its doors to the tent crew of the chautauqua. They are a fine lot of fellows and made good use of the showers and swimming pool.

Letters have been sent out to all of the older boys who would be interested in a camp the last part of August. It will run from August 20 to September 1 at Summerland Beach where fine boating, fishing, swimming and tennis are to be had. The 13 days' camp will cost $8. The boys are asked to report immediately whether they intend to go or not.

Calvin Hazlett left Thursday morning. Before he left he was presented with a fine watch chain as a token of the regard in which he is held by the Y. M. C. A. board and the members. Many regrets were expressed at his leaving.

C. F. Leuder, who will be acting executive secretary during Mr. Johnson's leave of absence for war work, made the association a visit Thursday morning.

Work on the business men's room in the basement is progressing. The cement floor was laid the early part of this week. Mr. Johnson visited the Berger Manufacturing Co. in Canton the other day and secured estimates on lockers for the new room.

The regular August meeting of the board of trustees was held last night. A fine representation was present. The regular routine business was transacted.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

If any one in the county has any fruit or vegetables going to waste and will telephone or drop a card to the Y. W. C. A., articles will be called for. This is a chance to help all the food stuffs serve their proper purpose instead of allowing them to go to waste.

Miss Laura Blanc will represent the Y. W. C. A. of Newark in the Geneva conference this year. She was sent by the membership committee.

The association hears so often the statement that it does not reach the girls that there are so few girls there. It might be of interest to know that for over a month the house has been practically full.

The association has many calls for girls to do general house work and would be glad to have any girls who desire such positions come to the office.

Why Women Talk.
Men are downtown at their offices all day and have a chance to talk. The women have to stay at home, and with the exception of the milkman, the grocery man, the ice man, the old clothes man, a few miscellaneous peddlers and hucksters and the woman next door, there is nobody to talk to. That is why she talks her husband's head off when he comes home at night. Husband, who, through long years of experience, have grown accustomed to this merely answer "huh-huh" with-out hearing. Sometimes the wife will catch them unawares and between remarks will insert a request for $10 to buy a new dress with. If the husband, from force of habit, answers "huh-huh," the wife, of course, gets the gown.—Zim in Cartoons Magazine.

CRUEL MASSACRE OF ARMENIANS IS BLAMED ON BERLIN

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chautauqua, N. Y., Aug. 11.—T. P. O'Connor, M. P., the Irish Nationalist leader, in an address on the Armenian situation here this afternoon, told of Germany's responsibility for the slaughter of thousands in Armenia.
"I am content," he said, "to have the merits and the aims of the two sets of belligerents tested by this case. For it is not of the most lamentable facts in this whole tragic story that the German rulers have played a terrible part in these massacres—I say, deliberately, for we have many Germans earnestly interested in the fate of the allies—I have met one of them at various Armenian conferences, Dr. Leipsius. There was a German consul in nearly every single one of the great Armenian settlements where the massacres took place. The wires were open as we know between the Armenian settlements and Constantinople. If the wires were open between Armenia and Constantinople, they were open between Armenia and Berlin."
"For a generation the voice of Berlin has been omnipotent in Constantinople. At the very moment the troops of Germany and Turkey were fighting side by side. It is not clear, therefore, that Berlin had only to say a word and the massacres would not have begun, and even if they had begun would not a word have brought them to an immediate end? For these reasons I feel entitled to say that the guilt of these hideous massacres lies at the door of the German as well as of the Turkish authorities. If I needed further proof of this fact I would point to the action of the representatives of Germany; to Wangenheim refusing our ambassador, Mr. Morgenthau's appeal for intervention, to Count Bernstorff's attempt at Washington to deny the massacre, to the statement of Bethmann-Hollweg, Zimmermann, and other German officials in Berlin, which if they did not justify, at least extenuated the horrible, gigantic, unsurpassed crime against humanity."
"And having that conviction, how can I, how can any man who loves liberty, hates oppression, loathes cruelty and massacre, how can I help feeling that I am on the right side when I feel myself in hostility to the present regime in Germany? How can I look for hope for the Armenian except in the defeat of both Turkey and Germany's ally, the militarist party in Berlin? For these reasons I rejoice that your great country has entered the war; has made the wise and the just and the humane choice in the war."

SINGING NEW WAR ART FOR TROOPS ABROAD
They Quickly Follow Example of the French When on a Long March.
When W. Hohenzollern of Potsdam put singing lessons in the curriculum of his soldiers' training a tremor of military giggle was heard around the world. Three years ago, when Mars smiled at the sight of those same soldiers marching to the frontiers—east, south and west—under the throaty baritone of "Deutschland, Deutschland über Alles," the derisive giggles began to die out until now they are not. It must be admitted that it was a case of he who laughs first lives to yell.
All of which is somewhat distantly related to the fact that the American soldiers in France are not only singing as they train, but are actually being trained to sing. One of our officers said:
"We are training with the 'blue devils' and they certainly deserve their name. They are the toughest set of undersized gentry that I have run into in France."
"They bared to the waist and went through three hours of grenade and bombing practice that was the last word in strenuousness. Then we watched them as their commander assembled them for the march back to the village. At the command 'Attention' their heels clicked, their heads went back, their chins up, and their right hands were pasted rigidly against their right trousers legs."
"At command 'March' all of them started off, punctuating their first step with the first word of their marching song. It was not any sickly chorus either. There was plenty of beef and lung power behind every note. My men, however, lined up opposite, were not missing a bit of it. Most of them seemed to know what was expected when I said: 'On the command to march the company will begin to sing, keeping time with the music. The first sergeant will announce the song.'"
"The first sergeant responded without a change of color, as if the command to sing was an old regulation. I know that he was puzzled, but he did it well. The name of the song was passed down the line from man to man. When I gave the order to march the company, almost half of them new recruits, wheeled in squads of fours and started off down the road singing, 'Hail, hail, the gang's all here!'"
"We swung into camp that night with every voice raising lustily on 'A grasshopper hopped on a grasshopper's back' and after dinner the billets just spouted melody, everything, from ragtime to Christmas carols and baby lullabies."
"I have found that, while a song that has snap and a swing to it is the most popular on the march, a sentimental love ballad is a sure winner in the cool of the evening."

KANSAS CITY WALKS TO WORK; CAR MEN WANT TO ORGANIZE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Kansas City, Aug. 11.—Kansas City got to work as best it could again today, the fourth day of the complete tie-up of all street car traffic, which has resulted from a strike of employees of the Kansas City Railways company, in the operating organization. The men, according to their spokesmen, have struck because it was alleged demands for the right to organize had been ignored and reinstatement of certain employees discharged to have been unfairly discharged had not been effected.
With the situation virtually unchanged from what has obtained since the beginning of the walkout interest today centered in the meeting of city officials of Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan., expected to be called by representatives of the street car company.

INCENDIARY FIRE DAMAGES POWDER MILL AT GARY, IND.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Gary, Ind., Aug. 11.—Fire believed to have been of incendiary origin destroyed about half the million dollar plant of the Aetna Explosives Company near here early today. Two employees named Holt and Choise were arrested. The plant was working on government contracts, it is said. It had a capacity of 46,000 pounds of gun cotton a day. It was estimated that it will take sixty days to put the plant in working order again. The accidents of Holt and Choise are being closely investigated. One thousand men were employed, working in three eight hour shifts.

WANT I. W. W. SUPPRESSED.
Washington, Aug. 11.—Many petitions from western states asking Congress to take some action to check I. W. W. activities were presented today in the Senate. The comment which accompanied their presentation showed clearly that senators were seriously thinking of means to remedy the situation.

ADOPT NEW METHOD TO WARN PARIS OF RAIDS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, Aug. 11.—It is officially announced that in case of air raids warning to the people will be given only by sirens, leaving the task to the bugles of indicating that the danger is over. Previously, bugles have also been used to give warning of impending air raids, and frequently it has happened that the people have been unable to differentiate between the call announcing danger and that showing the danger is over.

"A Certain French Port"

There is a certain port in France. We may not know its name. And there the little wavelets dance. The sun shines just the same. On ships that fly the starry flag As though at home their anchors drag.
And jollyboats glide to and fro Filled with the boys in blue. Who show the way to row on row Of lads in khaki, too. You'd almost be inclined to say 'Twas Hampton Roads or New York bay.
The streets may seem a trifle odd. The language somewhat strange. But silent speech of smile and nod Has an extensive range. And whosoever their course extends The eyes they meet are eyes of friends.
The seas that knew Decatur's men Now know his men once more. And what was in Paul Jones' ken Aboard the U. S. ship, And up above perhaps they gaze From some aerial bridge these days. —Maurice Morris in New York Sun.

BARE KNEES TO BE STYLE.

Kilts may replace trousers for civilian dress. Their adoption is under serious consideration in many parts of England as a result of the government's advice that men should wear material of one hue to economize in dyes.

One Who Will Go.
Local board 142, New York, has a corps of medical specialists conducting its examinations.
The eye, ear, nose and throat specialist stood ten feet away from the new batch of registrants.
"Now for the ears," he breathed. "Those who can't hear fall out."
Four of the ten men fell out.
"We'll try the ears of the other six now," said the specialist. He didn't even smile. He'd been working it all day.

One Who Will Go.
The same board had been getting a high proportion of exemption claims. And then:
"Will they be all white men in my regiment?" rose a querulous voice. "And can we quit the army and go back to work as soon as the Dutch are licked? Yep? Will I go? Whoop-ee!"

Want He Look Grand?
"Oh, Julia, won't he be simply grand in a uniform?" The speaker was a young woman standing by the window at First avenue and Sixty-sixth street, New York, where board 133 meets. Her whisper was plainly audible to the registrant, who promptly waived his claims to exemption.

Here's One Who Is Mad.
Michael Berto is due for trouble and a niche in a trench unless he recovers him when he was told by members of Board 137, New York, that his exemption affidavits had been made out wrong. Michael thrashed out of the place declaring roundly that he had waited enough time, and things were done better in Austria. He left in such haste that he didn't hear the warning that unless the errors were corrected he would be listed as eligible.

Could Catch Cold.
Ten of 200 men called by board 44 of Brooklyn, declared that their eyes pained them frequently and that their sight was exceedingly poor. The physicians asserted, however, that twenty better eyes couldn't be found in seven counties. Another candidate proffered one physical ailment after another until he had confessed to four, none of which could be verified by the examining physicians.
"Well, anyhow," said he, "I catch cold the easiest of any man you ever saw."
The doctors assured him that otherwise he was physically perfect.

DECIDES NOT TO ENTER THE ARMY

Politely Refuses Notice to Appear For Examination.

EXEMPTION BOARD MOVIES

Some Are Fighters and Some Are Slackers—Bald Men, Deaf Men and Men With Dependent Mothers—Law Rub Elbows With Real Men Who Are Anxious to Do Their Duty.

The examining board of Bangor (Me.) conscription district received the following letter from a man notified to appear:
"Thanking you for your favor asking me to report for examination, I wish to say that after careful consideration I have decided not to enter the national army at this time."

W. W. Astor Is Refused.
William Waldorf Astor of New York, who is only a junior despite his expensive name, appeared before his draft board for examination. The doctors thumped him and looked at him and then shook their heads.
"We can't take you," they said. "You've got a wooden leg."
"Why should a wooden leg keep me from fighting?" demanded William Waldorf. "I want to shoot Germans, not run from them!"
The doctors, however, insisted there was no precedent for drafting a wooden legged man, and William Waldorf went sadly away, convinced that there was a plot against him.

Like a Noble Fighting Bird.
He was a striking looking chap, with a lion's mane of blond hair. His appearance got him past the clerical guards of his draft headquarters and into Deputy Attorney General Conkling's private office.
He took off his hat. "Am I exempt?" he asked. "Then he took off his hair. 'This I mean,' said he. 'They told me a few years ago I was too bald for the Dutch army.'"
"There's a noble fighting bird that's your double," remarked Conkling. "Don't shame him. Good day."

Mother-in-law Dependent.
"I haven't heard of any other case just like mine," averred another information seeker. "You see, I've left my wife, but I still feel I owe something to my mother-in-law. Suppose I was taking care of her—what then?"
The dutiful son-in-law was invited to try it at his peril.

This is the last day for the registration of absent voters under the "absent voters law."

About 65 men have registered and approximately 20 have already voted because their business will keep them from being in Newark at the coming election.

Candidates for the various offices who will abide by the primaries next Tuesday are bringing their electioneering to a close in a blaze of verbal and promissory glory in their bid for the elusive vote.

The following are the candidates who will be presented to the voters on August 14. There are no councilmen candidates from the second ward on the Democratic ticket and from the third ward on the Republican ticket. DISCHARGE WHOLE DRAFT BOARD FOR ALLEGED BRIBERY

New York, Aug. 11.—The three members of local exemption board No. 99, in the heart of the East Side, were summarily removed last night by Deputy Attorney General Conkling, acting under orders of Assistant General Stoesbury, who is in charge of the operation of the selective draft machinery in New York state. The records of the board were placed in charge of the police.

The members of the board are Louis L. Cherry, Dr. Henry M. Groch and Dr. S. J. Bergfeld. The formal order for their removal announced that the drastic step had been decided upon by President Wilson "because of the irregularities reported to have occurred." These charges have been under investigation for several days by agents of the department of justice. There have been reports that efforts have been made to bribe members of exemption boards in this city to grant registrants exemption from service.

The order transmitted to Mr. Conkling by General Stoesbury, acting under instructions of Governor Whitman, directed "that the charges now made be prosecuted to the fullest extent."

ICE DEALERS AGAIN PROMISE TO ACCEPT CASH FOR PURCHASES

Once more the atmosphere has been cleared in the controversy between the city council and ice dealers of the city. Another signed statement has been issued by the ice dealers in which they declare that they will stand by the agreement made with the council last Monday night. The statement, signed by William M. Zentmyer and the Newark Ice and Coal Co., is as follows:

"In accordance with our council, we immediately ordered new coupon receipt books of the denomination of ten cents, and the books will be ready for use by Tuesday of next week, so we are promised. Since the agreement was made we have accepted and will continue to accept cash for ten cent purchases of over. These ten cent tickets are made in duplicate and every purchaser who does not have a coupon book, buying ten cents worth of ice, will receive a receipt upon RECEIVING RECEIPT from the man on the wagon. This is for the protection of all of us.

"We desire further to say that there is no truth in the rumor that we are about to advance the price of ice.

"The statement was made at the request of chairman of council committee and city solicitor, and to further misunderstanding.

No statement was made in explanation of the incident which was reported to Councilman Alexander in which one of the proprietors is said to have refused to accept cash for ice last Wednesday, two days after the agreement was made.

MAKE WORLD SAFE FOR AMERICA SAYS TEDDY

New York, Aug. 11.—"We are fighting for our nearest and dearest interests. To make the world safe for America," said Colonel Theodore Roosevelt last night. "Until America shows her ability to do that she should not talk about making the world safe for democracy. Now let every man, woman and child in this country strain every nerve so at the earliest possible moment our giant strength may be used to win the victory."

"Let us remember that pacifists and pro-Germans stand where the copperheads stood in the Civil war. This applies to some senators and congressmen and newspaper editors. I hope congress immediately will pass a law refusing to admit any paper to be published in German or the language of any other of our opponents while the war lasts."

Grandma, asked six-year-old Paul, what makes Helen such a pretty little girl?

She is pretty, grandma replied, because she is such a good little girl.

But, grandma, Paul protested, you are awful good.—Christian Register.

RENGO BELT

—REDUCING—
CORSETS $2.00 TO $3.50

Correct fashion lines may be achieved by stout and medium figures without selecting sizes smaller than the figure demands, if Rengo Belt Corsets are worn.

Here are scientifically designed corsets apparently no different than any ordinary corsets, yet tailored in such a manner as to reduce positively, comfortably and in accord with fashion's latest lines.

All Rengo Belt models have the strength to hold and mould the figure absolutely to their designed lines. They will not break or bulge under the most severe strain that the very stoutest figure may put upon them. For that reason the size your figure demands will satisfy you absolutely and you will not suffer the discomfort of attempting to force the figure, as is usual when medium and stout women wear ordinary corsets.

There are models for all figures, some with steel elastic webbing where extra freedom is desired and all are boned with double watch spring steels.

GOETHALS' FRIENDS QUIT SHIP BOARD TO SHOW SYMPATHY

Washington, Aug. 11.—The entire legal staff of the emergency fleet corporation has quit in a body because of sympathy, it is said, with Major General George W. Goethals, whose resignation as general manager of the corporation was accepted recently by President Wilson.

On the staff are some of the country's best known lawyers. They are: George Rublee, a former member of the federated trade commission; Joseph P. Cotton, George H. Savage and Charles P. Holland of New York, and Edward B. Burling of Chicago. All except Mr. Savage were serving without pay.

The attorneys resigned several days ago, but their action became known only yesterday. Officials of the fleet corporation admitted they had left, but refused to offer an explanation. It was learned, however, the lawyers felt they should go out with General Goethals and that Rear Admiral Capps, now general manager, should be left free to choose his own associates. The staff has held on since General Goethals left, it is understood, only because "its members desired to give the new manager all the information they could concerning legal questions considered by the old organization."

When the places of the attorneys are filled and one more member is named for the shipping board, the reorganization of the board and corporation will have been completed.
